DETAILED ACTION

Election/Restriction

1. Claims 17-18 and 23-24 are withdrawn from further consideration pursuant to 37 CFR 1.142(b) as being drawn to a nonelected claimed inventions, there being no allowable generic or linking claim. Election was made without traverse in Paper No. 6.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

2. The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

3. Claims 1-16 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention.

Regarding claim 1, applicant should clarify the structure and arrangement of the sensor being held against the product.

Regarding claim 2, applicant should what cable is intended to be received in the cavity.

Regarding claim 3, applicant should clarify what cables are meant by the security cable and the main cable. The specific arrangement and connections of the sensor cable, the "a cable," the security cable and the main cable is unclear.

Art Unit: 2832

Regarding claim 5, applicant should clarify the structure intended by the braided fabric jacket covering both the cable and elastomeric member (grommet).

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

4. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

5. ^{a-1 19-20} Claims 1-5, 11, ~~19-20 and 22~~, as best able to be understood in view of the rejections under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Leyden [US 4,455,464] in view of Leyden et al. [US 5,421,667].

Leyden disclose a mounting assembly [figure 1] for attaching a security sensor [7] having a cable [2, 3] to a product [23] comprising: a shroud [4] having a seat [figure 1] for receiving the sensor and holding it against the product and an internal passage way [figure 1] accommodating the cables.

Leyden disclose the instant claimed invention except for: a fastener extending through the shroud and into the product and fastening both the sensor and the shroud to the product.

Art Unit: 2832

Leyden et al. discloses a mounting assembly [44] for attaching a security device [figure 4] to a product [22] using a fastener [74] extending through the security device into the product [figure 4].

It would have been obvious to one having ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to use the mounting fastening design of Leyden et al. in Leyden for the purpose of securing the device to the product.

Regarding claims 2-3, Leyden further discloses the mounting assembly including connectors 6, 16] fixed on the shroud within a shroud adapted to receive the cable and cable connectors.

It would have been obvious to one having ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to use the cable connection design of Leyden in Leyden et al. for the purpose of easily connecting the cables to the sensor.

Regarding claims 4-5, the use of a grommet over the passage and a braided jacket for the cable would have been obvious as a means to protect the wire from chaffing.

6. Claims 7-10, as best able to be understood in view of the rejections under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Leyden in view of Leyden et al. as applied to claims 1-2 above, and further in view of Inoue et al. [US 5,570,080].

Leyden, as modified, disclose the instant claimed invention except for an access opening being provided on the internal cavity.

Inoue et al. discloses a security device [2] mounted to a product [20] having a cover [302].

Art Unit: 2832

It would have been obvious to one having ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to have a cover on the security device of Leyden, as modified, as suggested by Inoue et al., for the purpose of preventing unauthorized access.

The specific means used to cover the security device would have been an obvious design consideration dependent upon the specific intended placement thereof.

7. Claims 15-16, as best able to be understood in view of the rejections under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Leyden in view of Leyden et al. as applied to claims 1-2 above, and further in view of Keiger et al. [US 5,146,205].

Leyden, as modified, disclose the instant claimed invention except for: the shroud including a pedestal for mounting within a base.

Keiger et al. discloses a security device for a product having a pedestal [17] extending therefrom for mounting within a base [15, figure 2].

It would have been obvious to one having ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to use the pedestal/base design of Keiger et al. with the mount of Leyden, as modified, for the purpose of facilitating movement of the product.

Allowable Subject Matter

8. Claims 21-22 are allowed.

Art Unit: 2832

9. Claims 6 and 12-14 would be allowable if rewritten to overcome the rejection(s) under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, set forth in this Office action and to include all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.

10. The following is an examiner's statement of reasons for allowance: the prior art of record does not teach or suggest, in the claimed combination, the mounting assembly also including a power cable connected to the electrical connectors adapted for electrical connection to the product.

Any comments considered necessary by applicant must be submitted no later than the payment of the issue fee and, to avoid processing delays, should preferably accompany the issue fee. Such submissions should be clearly labeled "Comments on Statement of Reasons for Allowance."

11. The following is a statement of reasons for the indication of allowable subject matter: the prior art of record does not teach or suggest, in the claimed combination, the fastener extending through the flange and the sensor to attach the sensor to the product or the mean for restricting rotation comprising a pair of wings on the cover plate that extend on opposite sides of the electrical connector.

Conclusion

12. Any inquiry concerning this communication or earlier communications from the examiner should be directed to Examiner Lincoln Donovan whose telephone number is (703) 308-3111.
